TO OUR MEMBERS

Association and we are happy to report that we remain a sound and healthy organization working relentlessly towards the solution of the problems of the wood products industry in the face of an adverse economic environment both local and international.

Realizing the challenges and problems confronting the membership, your Board of Directors instituted an annual planning system in the Association by conducting an initial workshop-session at the Asian Institute of Tourism (AIT) in July last year. This resulted in significantly realigning PWPA's program thrusts to the objectives mandated in its Articles of Incorporation. Our adopted strategy covers the institutionalization of dialogues with government agencies; continuous participation in local and international fora; improvement of services to members; enhancing the unification and integration of PWPA; regionalization of members representation; and improvement of the public image of the wood industry.

This strategy enabled the industry to cushion the ill effects of a sluggish world economy coupled with a very depressed domestic situation. However, primarily because of this economic recession, the number of active members of your association declined by 7 per cent in 1984. As a corollary to this reduction, our financial statements show a deficit for the first time amounting to $\mathbb{P}$294,293.00 or about 20 per cent of revenues last year. Finally, the continuing general economic recession as well as related economic and financial difficulties coupled with the deteriorating peace and order situation and the logging ban in some areas of the country imposed by President Ferdinand E. Marcos on August 18, 1984, caused a drop in log production to about 4 million cubic meters or a decline by 9 percent from that of the preceding year.

World demand for logs and wood products did not register any substantial increase, while oversupply in plywood coupled with depreciation of other currencies vis-a-viz the US dollar depressed plywood prices. In fact, the export price of plywood has dropped by almost 40 percent over the last four and a half years. Likewise world prices of logs dropped 23 percent, lumber 17 percent, and veneer 14 percent over the last five years.

The domestic housing industry suffered a severe slump due to the high cost of money, the limited credit available and the erosion of disposable income caused by excessive inflation which has sapped housebuilders' confidence in their ability to repay mortgage loans. This slump contributed to the drop in plywood and lumber production.

The PWPA during the past year has worked hard to alleviate the wood industry from these serious economic and financial difficulties. In response to President Marcos' call on the wood industry to make an export contribution worth $500 million to the national recovery program your Association was instrumental in obtaining the Presidential grant of 995,000 cubic meters of Log Export Quota for 1984. The PWPA also successfully obtained authorization in December, 1984 for exportation of unexpended balances to continue up to March 31, 1985.

TO OUR MEMBERS

(MNR) changed hands on July 19, 1984. Newly appointed Minister Rodolfo P. del Rosario in one of his first public addresses, sounded a renewal call for forest conservation in consonance with explicit instructions from the President. In this regard, our officers initiated a system of periodic dialogues with MNR and the Bureau of Forest Development (BFD) which so far has produced some effective results. For instance, while the ban on highlead yarding was revived, your Association succeeded in obtaining an amendment to Forestry Administrative Order (FAO) No. 1-85 which exempts Timber License Agreement (TLA) holders who are following forest conservation regulations.

Your Association also secured a favorable regulation governing the Log Supply Purchase Agreement/Equity Participation agreement (LSPA/EPA) policy to cushion the impact of EPA on processor-members without timber concessions. Under this regulation, PWPA members belonging to the Greater Manila Chapter are exempt from the EPA requirements. The PWPA likewise obtained MNR-BFD agreeement to defer the implementation of FAO 85, which would effectively reduce log harvest per hectare by 30 to 70 percent, pending submission of timber inventory results and other related data.

Moreover, representations of your Association with the Philippine Ports Authority (PPA) relieved local log shippers from paying a 700 percent increase in arrastre rates. These would have adversely affected the competitive position of our members who ship their logs to the Metro Manila area.

With the soft market for processed products in mind and cognizant of the need to assist loggers-processors to survive the current crises, PWPA has also made representations with MNR to obtain a Presidential authorization for a 1985 Log Export Quota. We are following up this matter vigorously.

Your Assocation, realizing the dire consequences of a wood shortage by the turn of the century and the futility of generating concessional financing from abroad, has proposed the diversion to a Loan Fund of some ten percent of the export duties on logs and wood products for relending to Industrial Tree Plantations (ITP) proponents among TLA holders. This proposal has the symphatetic support of top government officials and will be submitted to the Batasang Pambansa as a bill.

As its contribution to the simplification of export procedures and the elimination or reduction of red tape, your Association, working with the Philippine Exporters Foundation (PEF), initiated the move for the removal of commodity clearances, which President Marcos ordered removed on March 25, 1985. The beneficial effects of this new policy will be felt by our members in due time. Also, your Association submitted a request for the reduction of export duties on logs and wood products. Effective January 1, 1985, this need has been partly served by the reduction of export duties on logs from 25 to 20 percent on lumber and veneer, from 6 to 4 percent and the elimination of the 2 percent tax on plywood exports.

TO OUR MEMBERS

Federation (APPF) was passed on to PWPA in July 1984 and since then, we have tried to introduce innovative measures to arrest the decline in world prices of plywood. We expect some results from these efforts soon. Your Association has likewise been active in the ASEAN Chamber of Commerce and Industry and is deeply involved in the preparations for the meeting in May 1985 in Manila. On August 18, 1984, your President was appointed member of the Presidential Productivity Council (PPC), a top level private sector advisory body to president Ferdinand E. Marcos on business matters and was subsequently appointed chairman of its Export Committee.

Your officers have been active as speakers and discussants in workshops organized by the Forestry Development Center (FDC), the U.P. School of Economics, the Natural Resources Management Center (NRMC), and the Philippine Institute of Development Studies (PIDS). Your officers are represented in the Governing Council of Philippine Council for Agriculture and Resources Research and Development (PCARRD), the Board of Trustees of Forest Resource Institute (FORI) and the Advisory Council of FDC.

Your Association was also involved in the 10th Philippine Business Conference (PBC), Productivity Congress, the Committee on Food Agriculture and Forestry, and the Committee on Industry of the Philippine Chamber of Commerce and Industry (PCCI), the general meetings of the Employers Confederation of the Philippines (ECOP) and the Confederation of the Philippine Exporters (COPE). At every opportunity, your voice is being heard through your officials and Board members with the aim of securing favorable consideration and solution of the problems of the wood products industry sector which we represent.

With the scarcity of wood an ever-increasing problem, it becomes more than ever essential that the wood industry maximize the utilization of wood resources as well as the productivity of logging and wood-processing operations. In this regard, your Association cooperated with the National Productivity Commission (NPC) in identifying major problems and issues affecting productivity in the wood industry. In addition, it is close touch with the other forest-based Associations like the Chamber of Furniture Industries of the Philippines (CFIP), the Philippine Chamber of Handicraft Industries (PCHI), and the Wood Preservers Association of the Philippines (WPAP) to achieve closer cooperation and integration.

It is because of this pressing need for integration and coordination that we have chosen as our new theme for 1985 "INTEGRATION FOR SURVIVAL." For indeed, we now all face a survival situation that we can only overcome primarily through our own resources and integrated efforts. By integration, we refer not only to unity of objectives, cohesion and harmony. We also refer to the entire political, social, economic and technical integration of our concerted efforts needed to attain our common goals and aspirations for a more viable, revitalized and progressive wood products industry that will enhance the best interests of our individual membership as well as those of our beloved country. We realize that integration in this context is a formidable and herculean task. But with the full and whole-hearted support of our membership, we have absolutely no doubt that we can and should succeed.

In behalf of the Board of Directors and the executive officers who have unselfishly shared their valuable time, energies and expertise to keep your Association going, we wish to express our deep appreciation to each and every one of you for your support and confidence.
